SCAM ALERT

Phone Scam: People Claiming to Represent the Department of Public Health

Target: Elderly County Residents

San Bernardino County officials have issued a warning about a telephone scam where people claiming to represent the Department of Public Health are asking for residents' Social Security numbers and bank records.

Public Health employees do not ask for this information when conducting business.

Providing information about Social Security numbers and bank records can lead to identity theft. If you receive a call requesting personal information and are unable to verify the person who is calling, do not provide the information and call the local police or sheriff's station immediately!

If you think you may be a victim of a scam, contact San Bernardino County Adult Protective Services (APS) at 877-565-2020, or your local police department.
